

RELICS

RESEARCHERS OF EUROPEAN LITERARY IDENTITIES,
COSMOPOLITANISM AND THE SCHOOLS

Dear Colleagues,

The RELICS research network (<http://www.relicsresearch.com>) is delighted to invite you to attend our virtual roundtable on

Women as Authors of Latin Literature

Thursday 11 March 2025

4.00-5.30pm (CET)

Online (link upon registration)

Speakers

Jane Stevenson (Oxford): 'Hiding in Plain Sight?'

Johanna Luggin (Innsbruck): 'Agency and Impact: Useful Concepts for the Study of Women Writers?'

Patrick Burns (New York): 'Initial Steps toward a Linguistic Dataset of Latin Texts Written by Women'

Giacomo Evangelisti and Chiara Bellavegli (Rome): 'Centre MedioEvA: Ideas for a New Literary Canon'

Skye Shirley (London): 'Women's Latin Writing: Appreciating Abundance'

Anne Larsen and Stephen Maiullo (Holland, MI): 'Women Latin Writers and the Canon: The Case of Anna Maria van Schurman'

Programme

4.00-4.15 Introduction

4.15-4.45 Short impulse-talks

4.45-5.15 Discussion

5.15-5.30 Questions and inputs from the audience

Please register via email (relics@ugent.be) before 8 March 2025.

With kind regards,

Alex Tadel (University of Warwick)

Simon Smets (KU Leuven)